The online edition will be available by the end of February (Spring) and August (Fall) and will be promoted across all BGMS and Healthy Rural California social media platforms. This publication is the sole medium that reaches all healthcare leaders and physicians in the region.

Advancing Health in Northern California magazine, sized at 8.5x11 inches and typically spanning 64 pages, showcases vibrant full-color printing and is distributed by Walker Printing of Red Bluff in Tehama County. Originally known as the Bulletin, the magazine has been published four times since 2020. Now rebranded as Advancing Health, it proudly represents Healthy Rural California, Butte-Glenn Medical Society, the California Medical Association, the North Valley Medical Association, and our esteemed sponsors. This new name underscores its role in reflecting the collective impact of these organizations.
